Stewardship

25th Sunday after Pentecost

Mark 12:41:44

“It’s not the size of your gift, but what you have in your heart as you give that’s important,” a Christian was heard to say. What we read in our lesson for today seems to verify that statement. Many who came to the treasury that day in the temple gave from their leftovers. They calculated what they needed to live and set that aside and then brought an offering from what was left. Perhaps a majority of congregation members figure their giving in this same way. Perhaps you are among them. The example of the widow teaches us that, even though a gift may be large in amount, it may be lacking in commitment. Because our offerings are an act of worship, they should honor the Lord. May we too, come into God’s presence with an offering that truly expresses our thanks to Christ for His commitment in love for us on the cross.

November 11 – Pentecost XXV – “Put not your trust in princes” (Psalm 146:3a). Neither stake yourself upon congresses or courts or physicians or popular opinions. None of these delays even their own death and only hastens the demise of others. Turn away from their life-shortening ways and take refuge instead in the God who made the universe. He who formed your body watches over the hopeless. He lifts up the lowly and saves life still. Prayer: Lord Jesus, deliver into abundant and everlasting life all who cry out in desperation. Amen.
